Grow Your Bottom Line with Email Monetization

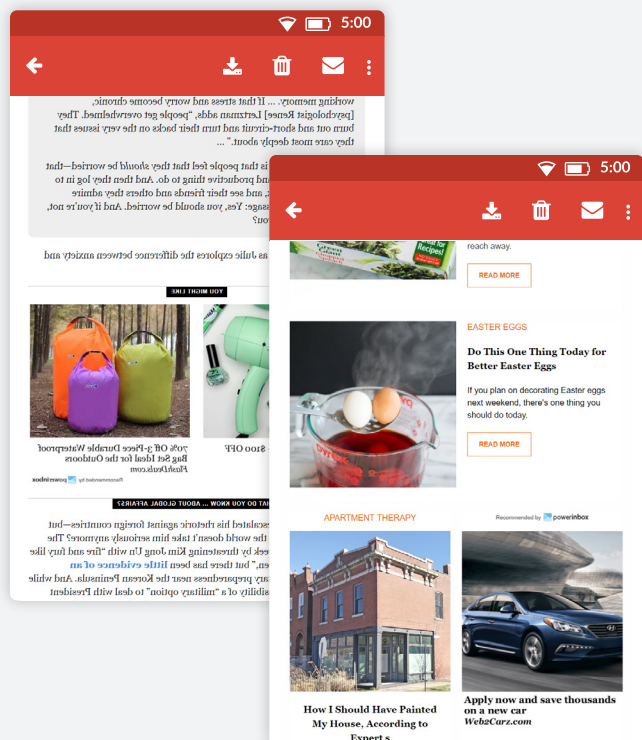

Send email campaigns that pay for themselves with automated placement of dynamic, personalized content for maximum audience relevancy and engagement.

Increase revenue with the channel consumers trust

As consumer trust in social media declines, and advertisers continue to pour money into Google and Facebook, publishers are struggling to maintain subscriber engagement and revenue. Before jumping to move your content behind a paywall and risk alienating even more audience, let email monetization help you drive new revenue over the channel subscribers trust the most, putting you back in control of audience engagement.

Jeeng Email Monetization

- Delivers relevant content, personalized at the moment of open for maximum relevancy
- Automatically inserts sponsored content into your existing templates
- Uses subscriber's email address to track engagement and optimize personalization across all channels
- Fills automatically from our native Advertising Network or works with your direct sold inventory
- Is immune to browser-based ad blockers for guaranteed monetization

Jeeng is the only digital monetization solution that leverages email as a unique identifier to ensure more precise personalization than cookies and search history.

Jeeng Email Monetization Delivers

- $2-6 revenue per thousand opens (RPM)
- 15+ content verticals
- 175 content categories
- 3-tiered rating system for ad targeting control

Jeeng Email Monetization Works

- Across all platforms, devices and ESPs
- With web ad server platforms for integrated email and web ad campaigns that simplify management
- Fast, with quick startup in as little as 15 minutes
- With zero up-front cost, no minimums and guaranteed ROI

Jeeng provides superior customer service, and its flexibility to meet its partners' needs is unmatched. By using its innovative email advertising technology, we have seen great success in monetizing our newsletters, and we are excited to continue our relationship with Jeeng as we grow together.
