

Jeeng AdMarket

Place your ads in the highest converting digital channels - email, news readers and emerging channels.

In the market for new audiences? AdMarket is for you.

Jeeng's premium digital inventory, including email, news readers (i.e. Apple News), web and push notifications, guarantees your ads reach more than 150 million unique customers. These opt-in subscribers have asked to receive content from publishers and advertisers they know, love and trust - just like you!

Our easy-to-use platform makes running any size campaign simple & convenient. And with built-in metrics, you'll ensure complete visibility into ad performance.

Sign your brand in to email, the most lucrative digital channel.

Jeeng's agnostic platform allows brands to access ad inventory on every email client, including Apple Mail & Gmail, which are otherwise unavailable, with guaranteed compatibility and high-quality rendering on every platform, OS and device.

“

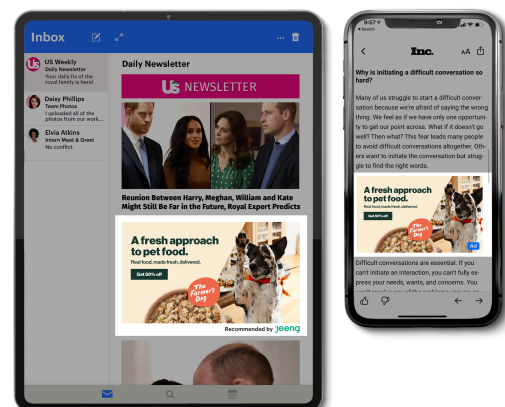

We'd tested other email advertising networks in previous years, but we saw strong performance with Jeeng, especially considering its flexibility.
