

Personalized, automated, monetized email made easy with Jeeng Email

Engage subscribers directly over the most trusted digital channel with the personalized, relevant content they want.

Give Jeeng Email a try!

Get up and running in less than 24 hours with personalized campaigns that drive engagement and revenue on day one!

Drive higher engagement.

Increase organic traffic.

Grow revenue.

Social media and search engines are gatekeepers that keep publishers from engaging directly with their audience. They hoard audience data, making it impossible to understand user interests and behaviors and deliver the personalized content recommendations today's digital users expect.

Jeeng Email cuts out the middlemen

Allowing publishers to end their reliance on third-party sources, build their own first-party data strategy, get to know their subscribers and automatically deliver curated content to each individual.

Jeeng Email's all-in-one platform delivers AI at scale with just a single line of code

The simplest email platform on the market—and the only one designed specifically for publishers—Jeeng Email gives you the service, scale and results you need to drive audience engagement and revenue.

With a quick copy-and-paste of our code, Jeeng Email does it all:

- Real-time audience engagement, behavior tracking, content curation, message configuration and deliver.
- We get to know your subscribers and what they like – what makes them click when, and what doesn't.
- Flexible email formatting options—breaking news alerts, single articles and full newsletters. Full A/B testing capabilities so you can experiment and optimize.
- Optional monetization to drive new revenue with personalized ad content.

Psst...and when you're ready for more, add Jeeng Push for curated push notifications. It's all-in-one multichannel messaging made easy!
